2008 Guest Artists

Quebec Circus School

"Who Were Those Guys?" was the front-page headline of the Sep/Oct 1998 issue of JUGGLE magazine. A virtually unknown team of jugglers seemingly came out of nowhere to take the juggling world by surprise in winning the 1998 IJA Teams Championships. "Those Guys" were Les Tourisks and they were from L'Ecole de Cirque de Quebec. Now, ten years after Les Tourisks captured the hearts of the juggling community with their unique blend of juggling and acrobatics, L'Ecole de Cirque de Quebec is proud to once again send its latest generation of promising young talent to the IJA stage.

L'Ecole de Cirque de Quebec is a relatively young school in Quebec City (not to be confused with the better known L'Ecole National de Cirque in Montreal). Students are trained in theater, physical conditioning, dance and flexibility in addition to their chosen circus disciplines.

Individuality and creativity are emphasized, and students are encouraged to create their own acts with strong guidance from the staff. Although young, L'Ecole de Cirque de Quebec is growing quickly and is quietly gaining a reputation for producing unique high-quality circus acts. Many former students have achieved great success in Cirque du Soleil and in other circuses and performances around the world.

The school has a very strong juggling program, and this school year probably has the largest crop of jugglers in school history. L'Ecole de Cirque de Quebec is proud to introduce this latest group of young and talented jugglers, including Cate Emily, along with acrobats and other circus artists, to the IJA during the first half of this year's Cascade of Stars.

Niels Duinker

Niels Duinker is one of the hottest new professional jugglers. His show is a combination of top notch juggling, performance and youthful enthusiasm.

Niels has performed all over the world, entertaining audiences in Japan, Las Vegas and Europe with his unique blend of artistry and energy. The Dutch Telegraph Newspaper has called him a "juggling wonder."

Niels Duinker performed his first show at the age of 13 and soon joined the Rotterdam Youth Circus to improve his skills. There he performed with a duo show called "Big Troubles." In 2003 on his 18th birthday, Niels performed – including juggling 7 clubs – at the European Juggling Convention in Denmark.

In 2005 Niels won two gold medals in the Dutch Juggling Championships. During the spring of 2006, Niels performed in the program of the greatest Dutch comedy performer Freek de Jonge. Later that year he won a gold medal in the IJA's Extreme Juggling competition. In the fall of 2007 Niels performed his solo juggling show for three months in the largest theme park in Japan.

Niels will amaze us in the Cascade of Stars and will also teach a free workshop.

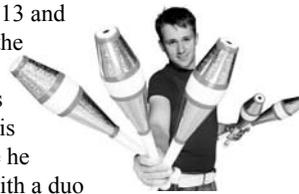

Casey Boehmer

Casey Boehmer was born without a left forearm. Through hard work and dedication he has become the only one-handed technical juggler in the world. He excels at balls, clubs and rings. By combining numbers juggling (up to five clubs) and multiplexing, he has created a one-of-a-kind performance.

Casey has performed professionally in hundreds of venues across the USA, including Branson and the Wisconsin Dells. He has wowed audiences in Singapore and is included in the historical juggling book Virtuosos of Juggling by Karl-Heinz Ziethen and Alessandro Serena.

Casey is a three-time IJA award winner and two-time winner of a "Phil" at the annual Groundhog Day festival in Atlanta, Georgia. The Boehmer Family Jugglers won the IJA People's Choice Award in 2001.

An inspiration to watch, Casey is a world-class juggler who will captivate your attention in the Cascade of Stars on Friday night.

Special Workshop

Juggling University

This year's special three-day workshop is Juggling University, with a different juggling "professor" and prop each day (Tue-Thu, 1-4pm). While not for raw beginners, each class will cover levels from beginner to advanced. Explore new tricks and drills, enhance your performance skills and gain valuable feedback from our three talented professors of juggling.

Pre-registration is required, and space is limited, so sign up early! The cost is an additional $100. For more info email Richard Kennison: festival2008@juggle.org.

Day	Prop	Professor
Tue	Clubs	Michael Karas
Wed	Rings	Sean Blue
Thu	Balls	Jim Barlow

Michael Karas is the creator of Juggling Insanity, a web haven for new and experimental juggling. He's a seasoned performer and has released a number of videos. His 2006 IJA bronze-medal act shows his desire to fuse theater, dance and juggling into a coherent harmony. Michael concentrates on making juggling more dance-like and transitional. His club technique focuses on trapping and "spin-downsizing." Attend his class to find out what that's all about.

Sean Blue is an artist, juggler and teacher from NYC (see seanblue.net). He has taught at circus schools in Finland, Sweden and Canada. In Sean's ring workshop you'll discover a broad spectrum of ideas, techniques and tricks from beginner to advanced, from manipulation to numbers. Experiment with shuffling, traps, satellites, origami, balances, rolls, slides, grinds, multiplexes, pancakes, flats, and anything else ring related. All skill levels and all varieties of rings are welcome.

Jim Barlow has juggled for 22 years since discovering the Illini Juggling and Uni-cycle Club (and is still a member). He's an experienced teacher of many regional workshops. Jim is a student of juggling – he has spent extensive time not only learning patterns and tricks, but also studying notations and principles behind them. He will bring many ideas to his class, and his students will leave with a solid base for learning, creating and extending their ball juggling skills.

Shows

Welcome Show

Join us Tuesday at The Lexington Opera House for the kickoff of the week's entertainment schedule. This show will feature the best acts from within the IJA family. For info on performing, email Richard Kennison at festival2008@juggle.org.

Renegade Shows

There will be Renegade shows late on Tuesday and Wednesday nights after the evening shows let out. These shows provide a more relaxed atmosphere for performers to try out their newest material and wildest stunts. Refreshing adult beverages and pub food will be available. Performer signups will be at the festival.

Youth Showcase

This non-competitive event on Wednesday evening will feature young performers up to age 18. Beginners and experienced jugglers are welcome. This is a great chance to try the stage for the first time. For more information on performing, email producer David Groth at youthshowcase@juggle.org. Stage time will be limited so sign up early!

Planting the Juggling Seed

On Thursday morning the gym will fill with hundreds of local schoolchildren. This will be a wonderful opportunity to introduce the magic of the manipulative arts on the stage of Planting the Juggling Seed. After the show the kids will get a juggling lesson and an opportunity to speak with professional jugglers. Interested in performing? Contact organizers Kim Laird and Rob Barowski at jugglingseed@juggle.org.

Cascade of Stars

Friday night brings the show you've been waiting for all week, a spectacular convergence of international performers and juggling superstars! To top-off our week's entertainment, The Quebec Circus School, Niels Duinker, Casey Boehmer, and more invited guests will create a world-class exhibition. On this night the Lexington Opera House will become the center of the juggling universe – we hope you are there. We expect this show to sell out so purchase your extra tickets early.

Awards Banquet & Show

Saturday night enjoy a buffet-style dinner with your extended IJA family topped off by the awards ceremonies and performances by IJA favorites. For info on performing, email Richard Kennison at festival2008@juggle.org.

Competitions

IJA Championships

This event attracts jugglers from around the world who present their very best work in hopes of capturing an IJA gold medal. This intense competition is one of the highlights of the festival and shouldn't be missed. The Juniors Championships are on Wednesday, July 16, the Individuals and Teams Championships on Thursday, July 17. Over $4000 in cash prizes plus medals and trophies will go home with the 2008 champions!

Significant changes have been made to the competitions this year. Please read the Special Notes below, and see <http://www.juggle.org/stagechampionships> for complete info. Entry fee: $25 per event. Contact Championships Director Chuck Hawley at championships@juggle.org.

Special Note – Judging system and criteria have changed. The goal of the IJA Stage Championships is to reward a stage-performed juggling act that is entertaining to a broad audience. The method of scoring and the criteria on which an act is judged have changed significantly. All competitors are responsible for understanding all rules and procedures before the competition – see the above web page for details.

Special Note – Routines must be submitted on six DVDs by June 9. To enter the Championships, you must submit six copies of a DVD showing your act (actual costume, music and routine). The video on DVD must be from a single continuous shot of your act, with no editing at all. The top acts will be selected for the stage finals in each category.

Special Note – Copyright music is allowed in IJA Championships and Individual Prop Competition but may be overdubbed on IJA DVDs.

Competitors may use any music for which the IJA or the competitor has procured live performance rights. If a competitor cannot procure adequate publishing rights, music will be replaced with royalty free music on the DVD. For more info, see:

<http://www.juggle.org/musicpolicy>

Individual Prop Competition

The Individual Prop Competition will be held on Thursday afternoon. Look for the best in 3 balls, 3 clubs, 1 diabolo, 1 devil stick, 3 cigar boxes and 3 rings. Routines should be no longer than 2 minutes and choreographed to music – see the Special Note on copyright music above. Cash prizes totaling $1200 will be awarded. Entry fee: $20 per event. For more information, contact organizers Matt Hall and Kevin Axtell at propcomp@juggle.org.

XJuggling

What is XJuggling? It's not stage, circus or birthday party juggling. You don't even have to have your tricks mastered. All that matters is the biggest, baddest, most extreme juggling tricks you've ever seen. If you can rock a trick every time, it's probably TOO EASY! Watch the best jugglers in the world pull off huge tricks and gnarly moves or crash and burn. This is all about radical, cutting edge tricks that push the limits of creativity and possibility...and all you gotta do is pull your trick off ONCE (within the time limit, or course). Look for this competition on Friday afternoon. For more info visit www.xjuggling.com or contact organizer Jack Kalvan at xjuggling@juggle.org.

Jogging Championships

Jogging is simply juggling while jogging or, in this case, sprinting! This year's event is scheduled at 9am on Tuesday. Entry Fee: $10. For more information, contact Jogging Director Bill Giduz at jogging@juggle.org.

Numbers Championships

The IJA Numbers Championships were established to provide a forum for competitors to challenge each other, past champions and the laws of physics. The purpose of these events is to accurately record who can successfully juggle, individually and in teams, the greatest numbers of balls, clubs, rings and bounced balls. Look for the Numbers Championships on Friday at noon. Cash prizes totaling $1000 will be available including a special prize for competitors breaking IJA Numbers records. Entry fee: $15 per event. See <http://www.juggle.org/championships> for rules and entry information.

Games of the IJA

The games are always a festival favorite. Kick back in the gym and watch or, better yet, join in the fun. Questions or ideas? Contact Games Director Scott Slesnick at games@juggle.org.

Workshops

The festival will be packed with dozens of one-hour workshops each day from Tuesday morning to Saturday afternoon. Featuring a wide range of props, skill levels and styles, all workshops are free and open to festival registrants (except the special three-day Juggling University workshop). Interested in sharing your skills? Contact Workshop Coordinator Chuck Hawley at workshops@juggle.org.

IJA Auction

No item is too old – or too odd – for this year's annual auction. Donate an item by contacting auction@juggle.org, or just show up and bid on juggling articles, props, memorabilia and photos. Proceeds will benefit the IJA Archives Fund.

Vendors

The main gym will be home to a wide variety of vendors selling props, clothing, jewelry, toys, books, videos and more. Vendor spaces are available on the registration form. Each person working in the gym as a vendor needs either an Event Package or Gym Admission. For more information contact vendors@juggle.org.

Annual Business Meeting

At noon on Wednesday, you'll meet candidates for the Board of Directors, discuss ideas to improve the IJA, and more!

DVD Special

Each person getting an Event Package can also buy the Championships and Highlights DVD 2-Pack for the very low price of only $15. DVDs will be shipped directly to you after production in the fall of 2008.

Spectator Passes

Spectator passes are $5/day per person for the general public and non-juggling relatives or friends of registered jugglers. Spectator passes provide gym access for watching juggling and browsing the booths. They do not include admission to any shows.

Welcome to Lexington, Kentucky

Located at the heart of Central Kentucky's famed scenic Bluegrass region, Lexington is known around the world for its role in producing champion racehorses and fine bourbon. The downtown has many restaurants located within a short walking distance from the Hyatt and Convention Center. Lexington's central location makes an ideal base from which to explore the entire Bluegrass region. Within a short drive you'll find pioneer forts, outdoor theatres, crafts fairs, historic railways, scenic byways and much more. Drop by <http://www.visitlex.com> for more info.

Juggle in the Lexington Convention Center

The Lexington Convention Center is in the heart of Lexington's historic downtown, in the center of Kentucky, and in the center of 75% of the population of the United States, at the intersection of I-64 and I-75. The Convention Center is connected to the Hyatt Regency Hotel and offers over 100,000 square feet of well lit, climate-controlled juggling space. The main juggling space of 30,000 square feet will feature both carpet (one color) and smooth concrete. Nearby are retail boutiques, restaurants and many entertainment opportunities all within easy walking distance. The IJA has arranged for free wireless Internet access for jugglers in the Convention Center.

Lexington Opera House

The Lexington Opera House is known as one of the premiere performing arts centers in the region. Seating over 1000, the distinctively 19th century flavor found in the original Opera House is one of the most charming features of this restored theatre. Plush decor, red velvet curtains and golden ornamental plaster castings adorn the grand stairway, the proscenium and the queen boxes. This fully modernized theater is the perfect showcase for our lineup of first-class competitions and performances.
