Special WorkshopsPattern, Trick, and Sequence Creation by Patrik Elmnert
Tuesday and Wednesday, 10am-12pm

Jugglers of any skill level, from beginner to expert, are invited to join this two-day special workshop which examines how tricks, patterns, and sequences are created. In this workshop, Patrik will share tools on how to randomly generate juggling tricks, patterns, and sequences on paper that directly translate into juggling. It will be focused on each individual's level and interest within juggling. If you've never made a trick, pattern, or sequence before, this is a great start! The grid you will learn to create will do all the thinking for you. If you've created and composed a lot of juggling in the past, this technique is going to make combinations of throws happen that you wouldn't have imagined before.

Take Your Juggling to New Heights by Richard Kennison
Thursday and Friday, 10am-12pm

Kellin Quinn, Thom Wall, Tony Pezzo, Ashley Ellis, Book Kennison, Cameron Ritter, Casey Boehmer, and Nate Sorrell — What do these incredible jugglers have in common? They have all been coached and/or trained by Richard Kennison.

In this two-day special workshop, he will have you look at some of his practical ideas for building a better foundation for your juggling and for creating a juggling act that sets you apart from others.

This workshop is designed for jugglers who have not yet mastered five ball juggling but want to. (Please bring a 48 inch long wooden dowel of quarter-sized diameter to this workshop.) Richard does not create juggling robots but helps performers get better at juggling and helps them create the kind of act that is unique to them. Richard is known for meeting jugglers where they are and helping them get going in the direction of where they want to be.

Poi Technique and Exploration by Cyrille Humen
Wednesday and Thursday, 1pm-3pm

In this two-day special workshop, Cyrille will present an exploration of various poi techniques including throwing, contact, manipulation, spinning, and more. Flowers, Body Tracing, and Contact Poi techniques will all be covered. Beginning to advanced spinners are welcome.

From clean sequences to chaotic improvisation, participants will search for spontaneous and intuitive movement, shuffle their tricks and experiment with them in order to break out of known patterns and create new ones. Let's get surprised!

Busking Competition at the fest

We are excited to be hosting the 3rd Butterfly Man Busking Competition at the IJA Fest!

Prizes include $1,000+ in cash plus the Butterfly Man Trophy!

If you want to compete, you must sign up for the competition before the festival (see below), by the entry deadline of July 21st. About 4-6 competitors will be selected for the finals. The final competition will take place on the evening of Friday, August 1st.

Each performer will get 45 minutes total. The winner will be determined by a combination of Busking dollars, tips from audience members, and a panel of three judges that rotate and fill out numbered score sheets. Judging will be based on Execution, Audience Interest, Creativity and Stage Presence.

To enter, send an E-mail to BookYourNextEvent@gmail.com, with the following information:

- Name
- Show Name
- Performer Bio
- Video link that showcases your talent
- Requirements for your show

You will then receive an email with full rules and regulations.

IJA Numbers Championships - Rules Changes, by Scott Cain and Merry Spahr

We hope that everyone is looking forward to the IJA Festival at Purdue in a few weeks. We'd like to let everyone know that there are some important changes to the rules for the IJA Numbers Championships this year. We believe that these changes will provide some flexibility for competitors and shorten the event.

Specifically, the time allotment for each entrant will now be only four minutes per event.

In the Preliminary Qualifying Rounds, during the first two minutes, the entrant must achieve at least one qualifying run of the minimum number of objects in order to continue with the remaining two minutes. In the Championships Finals, each competitor will be given the full four minutes (with no stipulation of needing a qualifying run during the first two minutes).

There will no longer be time allotments for each level (i.e., two minutes for 8 balls, two minutes for 9 balls, etc), but rather a single four-minute allotment for each event (i.e., Individual Balls).

The competitor now also has an option to call for a one-minute time-out during the Finals.

Potential competitors should read at least Section 1 of the Numbers Rules at <http://www.juggle.org/ija/championships/files/2013/05/NumbersRules2014.pdf>.

Please contact us at numbers@juggle.org with any questions.

Scott Cain and Merry Spahr - IJA Numbers Championships Co-Directors

Festival Housing Options

It seemed simple enough last year when the IJA selected Purdue as the site of the 2014 festival. The residence hall option was going to be advantageous. Unfortunately Purdue has imposed new, stringent conditions on their housing.

For the IJA, this effectively means that youth and families cannot be accommodated in the Purdue residence halls.

This recent change has caught everyone by surprise. The IJA festival team and Board members have been working very hard to find out exactly what is possible and to get the best rates. If you are 18 or over, you can register for a single or an inexpensive half of a double room in the residence halls.

IJA Fest: Purdue Residence Halls -- Reserve Rooms \(deadline 5pm ET July 11\)

Please note that due to Purdue policies, on-campus housing in Purdue University Residences is available only to adults 18 and older. Families traveling with youth under 18: please look at the options we list for Nearby Hotels on the next page including some with special IJA rates.

Purdue offers housing for IJA jugglers 18 or older in two residence hall complexes on campus, both located within a short walk of the gym and workshops:

- Hillenbrand Hall, an 8-story double-winged suite-style building with co-ed floors. Each suite has two private double rooms (with two single beds in each), joined by a semi-private bathroom. The bathroom is shared between the four guests in the two adjoining bedrooms. Hillenbrand Hall is double-occupancy only; no single rooms are available. Guests staying at Hillenbrand pay $27/person per night plus 12% tax, for a total of $30.24 per person per night.
- First Street Towers, a set of three 5-story buildings, built new in 2010, with single rooms only, each with a private bathroom. Guests staying at First Street Towers pay $60/person per night plus 12% tax, for a total of $67.20 per person per night for a private single room with private bath. No double rooms.

See the IJA Purdue Housing Chart for detailed information on all the features and amenities available in each building.

Please note these important facts about the on-campus housing options at Purdue:

- Alcohol is not permitted in Purdue University Residences. This includes possessing, consuming, transporting, distributing or being in the presence of alcohol. Anyone found in violation of this policy is subject to termination of the housing contract and immediate removal from the residence hall.
- All rooms in First Street Towers are single occupancy only. Fire safety codes prohibit more than one person per room in First Street Towers.
- Mixed-gender rooms for adults are available at Hillenbrand Hall. Married couples, adult friends traveling in a group or any other mixed-gender or same-gender group of adults (18 and up) may choose Hillenbrand Hall for their housing and specify whom they want to share a bedroom with. It is not possible to specify suite mates in advance, but suite mates may be coordinated on-site if all parties are in agreement.

Our festival team and the local convention bureau have also been working overtime to negotiate preferential rates at the local hotels to compensate for the new residence hall restrictions. Several hotels have offered interesting rate packages for the IJA festival. Check out the hotel information on page 6 and on the IJA website.

Between the residence halls and the hotels, there are affordable accommodations for everyone. Make any hotel reservations soon, as some hotels have limited space.

The IJA regrets this late housing surprise, but it was fully beyond our control.

- When reserving your housing preference using Purdue's online system, you will be required to pay a non-refundable registration fee equal to one night's stay. THIS FEE IS NON-REFUNDABLE. The registration fee is applied to your total bill for the week, which will be payable in full upon arrival.
- A wired Internet connection is provided in each sleeping room via a standard Ethernet jack. Wireless Internet (Wi-Fi) is not available in the residence halls. Purdue will provide a Purdue network ID and password for Internet access on the Purdue wired network. Bring an Ethernet cable to plug into your computer for Internet access in either residence hall.
- Free Wi-Fi Internet access is available in other buildings at Purdue via AT&T. You will be prompted with instructions when you connect to the AT&T Wi-Fi network on campus.
- Remember that Purdue residence halls are not hotels. There is no daily housekeeping service, no TV, coffeemaker, microwave or mini-fridge in the rooms; linens are exchanged at the front desk upon request; you may be more comfortable bringing an extra pillow, an alarm clock, your shower amenities, a plastic cup, etc.

All housing reservations for Purdue University Residences must be made in advance online by 5pm EDT on July 11, 2014. No on-site or walk-up accommodations are available.

For questions about Purdue University Residences, contact Purdue Housing by email at allygoodrich@purdue.edu or by phone at 765-494-6632 Monday-Friday 9am-4pm EDT.

Finally, remember that you are making your Purdue University Residences accommodation plans and paying your Purdue University Residences registration fees directly with Purdue University. The International Jugglers' Association is not involved with and has no control over or knowledge of your Purdue University Residences registration or payment, and cannot and will not be involved in case of errors, cancellations, changes of plans or any other disputes.

When using the Purdue website (link below) to reserve residence hall rooms, you will specify your check-in and check-out dates. Note that, if you go back to edit the page those dates are on, the dates will be reset to the default, so double check them before leaving that page.

Fire Nights

Things are really heating up at the IJA this year! We will have fire spinning and juggling on Tuesday and Thursday night. So, be sure to bring all your fire props to join in the fun. If you're not a fire juggler yourself, come and be an enamored spectator.

Fuel will be provided each night, but donations are kindly accepted. This will take place at the Engineering Fountain, located on the North East side of campus at the Purdue Mall.

Kurios, reviewed by Don Lewis

Cirque du Soleil's latest production is called Kurios - Cabinet des Curiosités. Back in the 16th century, the word cabinet typically referred to a room rather than a piece of furniture. Thus the wunderkammer, or cabinet of curiosities, was a room where unusual and provocative items were displayed, usually private collections. This concept evolved into modern day museums.

The entertainment industry embraced the concept. In the 18th century a wunderkammer style of show was a loose assemblage of unrelated acts. In North America, this style evolved as vaudeville. In recent years, the Australian circus group Circa toured a show called Wunderkammer very much in that style.

Cirque du Soleil's version of this genre is set in an alternate, yet familiar, reality where mechanical things take life and assert their personalities. The set in the familiar CDS tent environment is decorated with gears and pipes disguising the support pillars. Add in a personage who seemed like a mad inventor and we seem to have been deposited in a steampunk world.

The opening number features most of the cast. Some of them run around the perimeter of the ring wearing hats which are the engine and cars of a steam train. An odd looking train shaped like a accordion caterpillar. There is an apparatus with several nozzles that have gold balls apparently balanced on jets of air. Personages in lab coats rush about moving machines that had littered the stage before the show. Acrobats flip and bounce around in a frenzy of scattered activities.

A popular activity was a juggler who provided the only juggling activity in the whole show. He raced around the stage juggling balls and what appeared to be plastic hands. Three clubs proved to be popular with the audience. He quickly established that you can wow a crowd with basic tricks. It was fun to watch in the midst of the rest of the things going on on stage. The juggler is Gabriel Beaudoin from Quebec City.

I was caught by surprise by one move which I hadn't seen before. While juggling three clubs, he threw one really high. Normally that means that you wait for the club to come back down before continuing to juggle, or you do some other trick while waiting. In this case, the juggler himself flew up in the air, restarting his pattern before the club had a chance to fall. He kept juggling in mid-air. It was one of those "did I just see that?" moments. He did something similar when he was lowered back to the stage in time to catch a falling club and keep on juggling. It was a memorable piece of stagecraft and ingenuity, to say nothing of timing between the juggler and the riggers lofting him.

The show then proceeded on with the usual procession of individual acts. Interestingly, there were no overwhelmingly high acts, like aerial trapeze rigs. Each act was more or less at stage level and easily visible.

A girl used a bicycle suspended in the air as an ingenious trapeze. A small version of a circus ring was wheeled on stage as an invisible circus. A unicycle swayed along a high wire. Something jumped from a tower to splash in a bucket, but the only reality was a ringmaster directing his invisible artists.

A clever chair balancing act had the artist climbing an ever higher stack of chairs to reach a suspended lamp. Partway through the act, the lighting changed and we could see that the exact mirror image of the act was being performed upside down from the top of the tent. An interesting twist on a classic act.

A giant mechanical hand appeared on stage and was used as a base for four contortionists. Two men who had appeared as twins in various inter-act sequences became a pair of aerial strap flyers, crossing the stage and parts of the audience. An amusing clown sequence had a clown invite an audience member up on stage to sit on a couch. The clown then proceeded to transform into an outrageously affectionate cat.

An impressive rolla bolla act featured the usual balancing on cylinders that seemed to roll within millimeters of disaster. To add to the difficulty, the entire routine was done on a swaying Washington trapeze as everything rolled back and forth.

At the intermission, riggers set up what appeared to be a giant net across the stage. In fact it turned the entire stage into a trampoline. Lots of acrobats could jump at once which lead to the possibility of multiple tricks or amplifying another flyer's efforts.

The final act was a large team of acrobats who spread out over the whole stage and kept the audience spellbound with a high energy routine.

eJuggle

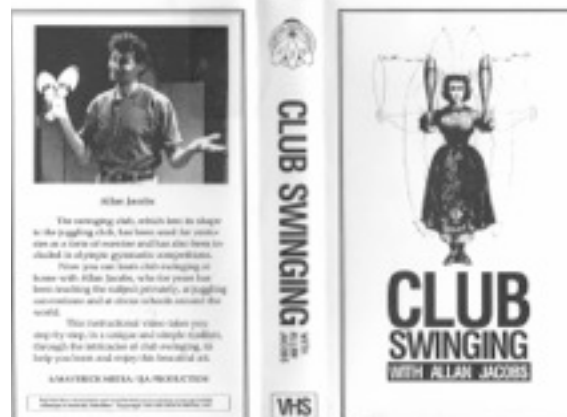

The official publication of the International Jugglers' Association.

The IJA is pleased to announce the re-release of the instructional video 'Club Swinging with Allan Jacobs'!

Now exclusively available on eJuggle to IJA Members

Originally released on VHS in 1990, this release represents not only a great educational resource on the subject of traditional club swinging, but is also a great historical piece of work as well. The video has been professionally digitized from the original master tape to provide the highest possible quality. Getting everything in order to properly release this video once again was an incredible process. Special thanks to the following people for their help with this re-release: Nathan Wakefield, Don Lewis, Mario Taormina, Allan Jacobs, and Don Reed.

Club Swinging with Allan Jacobs

The IJA is pleased to announce the re-release of the instructional video 'Club Swinging with Allan Jacobs!' Originally released on VHS in 1990, this release represents not only a great educational resource on the subject of traditional club swinging, but is also a great historical piece of work as well. The video has been professionally digitized from the original master tape to provide the highest possible quality. Getting everything in order to properly release this video once again was an incredible process. Special thanks to the following people for their help with this re-release: Don Lewis, Mario Taormina, Allan Jacobs, and Don Reed. YOU MUST BE AN IJA MEMBER TO WATCH THE VIDEO...

IJA "Tricks of the month" – México – June 2014 – Fuensanta Rodríguez

Fuensanta is a Mexican juggler who has been juggling for 9 years. This is her first personal juggling video and she does clubs and headbalancing. "Mexico City is a stressful and crowded place. So, at the end of the day, juggling is my only escape." Fuen works with ball on head, 423 with lazies, many swinging [...]

Ladies Malabaristas III

Thanks to the Facebook group called "Ladies Malabaristas," the IJA has collaborated to create a video series featuring female jugglers from around the world. This is Part 3 of what will be an ongoing project. Contributions for Part 4 have already been collected. The goal of these videos are to inspire and unite female jugglers [...]

Be Funnier with Scotty Meltzer: Comedy Karaoke

Using volunteers is one of the easiest ways to get laughs. Adding a volunteer to a bit instantly makes it seem more spontaneous, raises the stakes, allows solo performers to do dialogue instead of just monologue, and creates opportunity for conflict—all great ingredients for comedy!

But beware: Audience participation is such a powerful tool that many variety acts overuse it. In fact, some street performers build their entire shows from volunteer routines, which can be a big problem when moving off the streets.

Rare Juggling Books (Part 1)

There have been hundreds of books written about juggling. I have about 70 juggling books in my library, while jugglers such as Hovey Burgess, Paul Bachman, Erik Aberg, and Hermann Sagemuller have larger collections. While this is a tiny fraction of the number of books authored about illusion and magic, it's still more than the [...]

Scrambled Passing Patterns and Takeout Notations: Part 1

An Introduction from Warren I first started exploring club take-outs was with Reid Belstock, my partner in Smirk. Later, I would work with Lazer Vaudeville for a few years where I learned how to do a pattern created by a group called Manic Expressions, known as the "Wally Walk." Since Manic Expressions came up with [...]

Common Juggling Misconceptions

There are a myriad of misconceptions regarding the art of juggling. Many are on the part of audience members, whose lack of understanding and knowledge is laughable, but somewhat understandable. However, many members of our own community fall victim to false beliefs as well. Some are about performing and some are about the history of [...]

IJA CHALLENGE – 3 BALL ENDURANCE WITH LOCKED ELBOWS

Hello, and thanks for coming to the IJA Challenge! The IJA Challenge is a monthly video contest put forth to the juggling community, in which anyone with a video camera can record an attempt to compete for a juggling/manipulation based world record set by Richard Kohut. The winners receive prizes for their achievement in breaking [...]

New Wes Peden video 'Throw Joy' coming to eJuggle in early July for IJA members only!

eJuggle will have a new video by Wes Peden for IJA members only by early July. Here is how Wes describes it:

"With the extras, it's 1 hour and 25 minute of the best juggling I've ever made. I used 100% of my technique and 100% of my creativity to try and make this video the best juggling anyone's ever seen! Definitely the most work I've ever put into anything and I would love people that are passionate enough about juggling to join the IJA to see it! I've gotten a huge response from the juggling community about the film so I hope your members would also love to be able to see it!"

Coming Soon to eJuggle, by Scott Seltzer

eJuggle (<http://ezine.juggle.org>) is the official publication of the International Jugglers' Association. The site is updated regularly with high quality juggling articles, videos, and other exciting content. There are currently around 400 original posts available on every aspect of juggling.

While most eJuggle content is freely available to everyone, some exclusive articles and videos are for IJA members only. See <http://ezine.juggle.org/video-library/> for a list of exclusive videos such as full IJA Festival coverage, IRC videos, plus premium works by artists such as Wes Peden, Tony Pezzo, Jay Gilligan, Anthony Gatto, and others. Go to <http://ezine.juggle.org/membership-options-page/> for more information about why and how to become a member of the IJA.

In July, 2014, we are looking forward to publishing the following content on eJuggle:

Having a Juggling Festival?

List it here!

If you're organizing a juggling festival (or if you simply know of a juggling fest) and you want to advertise it in the IJA eNewsletter, just drop a note to eNewsletter editor Don Lewis enews@juggle.org. Such listings are free.

The eNewsletter generally comes out near the end of each month. Your festival can be listed for a few months, and you don't have to be an IJA affiliate to have a fest listed. Hey, jugglers want to know about juggling fests. Help them out and get more jugglers to your fest at the same time.
