Chair's message, by Nathan Wakefield

Things are really heating up with our upcoming festival in El Paso -- in one instance quite literally!

We are pleased to announce that fire troupe Odd-Lab will be at the festival! Not only that, but they will be kicking off our Friday Fire Nights jam with a special fire show! You can come out and watch their performance, then dive right into the action and juggle/spin fire yourself!

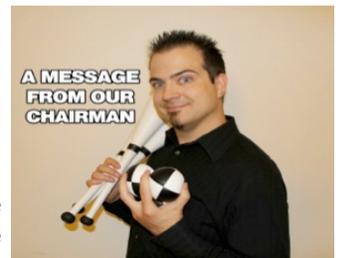

After much chatter and speculation, the final list of stage competitors has been released! See the listing below to see who will be competing for the massive prize money this year. Next month, we will have profiles for all the competitors.

In addition to the stage competitors, we have also added several new special guests to the festival (see below) as well.

Interested in taking your juggling sequences to the next level? Don't forget about Emil Dahl's special 2-day, 4-hour workshop on developing juggling sequences. Space is limited, so be sure to secure your spot in advance!

Lastly, don't forget about The Gauntlet 3's crowdfunding page. Generous IJA donor Unna Med is currently matching all contributions up to $4,000. Between research and development, material costs, transportation, and onsite construction, creating such an ambitious juggling themed obstacle course that we have planned for this year is an incredibly intensive project. With your help, we can make this one the best gauntlet yet!

Full festival info, including online registration, is available at: www.juggle.org/festival.

Looking for Youth Showcase performers for IJA 2016 fest

The Youth Showcase is a great opportunity for younger jugglers to perform at the Festival. The Youth Showcase is a non-competitive event at which performers with routines can get stage time to show their skills for a supportive audience. Performers are 18 years old and younger, and routines can be solo or group and should be under 5 minutes. A technical rehearsal will be held on the day of the show, with the performance taking place in the evening. Jugglers who want to perform (or their parents) can contact the show producer, Art Thomas, at youthshowcase2016@juggle.org.

Seeking volunteers for 2017 Festival Registrar - Earn a full Festival Package, by Mike Sullivan

The IJA is seeking a couple of dedicated volunteers to be the Festival Registrars for the historic 70th Annual IJA Festival in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, set for July 10-16, 2017. Volunteers can earn a full Festival Event Package for their efforts and be part of the core team that makes the festival so much fun for hundreds of jugglers from around the world.

After reading the description of the role below, if you think you might be interested, please contact 2016 Festival Registrar Mike Sullivan at registrar@juggle.org soon so that you can possibly get some hands-on training with Mike this year, both before and at the 2016 festival. He'll be happy to answer any questions you have.

The effort for next year begins early in 2017 with the setup and testing of the online event registration system. Work with the festival team to get festival registrations ready around February or March, and then provide weekly registration reports until online registration ends in June. Once set up, the system is run by automation through the end of online registration, requiring no administrative effort except weekly reports and a few customer service requests.

After that, you'll help the festival team with data processing and logistics for the festival registration desk, including:

- Preparing festival packets for pre-registered jugglers
- Giving festival team members data on vendor, juggler and guest registrations
- Handling customer service for jugglers inquiring about the fest or their registration
- Coordinating with event directors on event registrations for juggling, numbers, etc.

Registration setup and testing requires about 30 hours of work spread across a couple of weeks in January and February. Once registration opens, 2-4 hours/week should be all that's needed to monitor and report on registrations as well as handle the few customer service issues that come up.

Once on-site at the festival in Cedar Rapids, you'll lead the IJA registration desk team, including

- Staffing the desk from 9am-4pm daily along with 3-4 other IJA volunteers
- Checking in pre-registered jugglers and sell gym passes & other fest items
- Working with the Square Register system to record and process all transactions
- Preparing and making bank deposits of cash and checks received daily
- Updating the festival team and Treasurer on daily sales each night
- After the fest, preparing summary and detail sales reports

It's a lot of work, but it's very rewarding and you'll be part of the core team that makes the 70th annual IJA Festival an unforgettable week of fun in a beautiful, small Midwestern gem of a city.

If you're interested, please email 2016 Festival Registrar Mike Sullivan at registrar@juggle.org. Hands-on training is available starting now and continues with on-site training at this year's fest in El Paso.

40th (!) Isla Vista Jugglers Festival, by Martin Frost

Coming up very soon -- May 6 - 8 -- in Santa Barbara, CA, is the 40th Isla Vista Jugglers Festival. This fine festival seems to be the longest running regional juggling festival in the world -- about a year older even than the European Juggling Convention. Only the IJA fest has been going on longer. Enjoy the Saturday night show in the Isla Vista Theater. Hope to see you there!

Board nominations open -- final reminder -- May 15 deadline, by Martin Frost

Want to help steer the IJA? Got some good ideas for what the IJA should (or should not!) do? Run for the IJA Board, or if you think you know someone who would be a good Board member, talk to them about running. The current volunteer directors on the IJA Board are working hard to keep the IJA alive and vibrant. Each year the IJA needs new volunteers to join the Board and help decide the directions the IJA will go. About half of the seven Board seats are up for election each summer for a two-year term. You help out for two years and then you can relax and let someone else step up if you want to. Or, you could offer to run again.

Serving on the Board can be very rewarding. Submit a nomination to ijanominations@juggle.org by the May 15th deadline. Email that same address if you have any questions about serving on the Board. Help promote the IJA and build on a legacy of success. For more details about serving as a Board member, see: www.juggle.org/business/nominations.php.

Individuals and Teams Championships Emcees

The Gauntlet 3, by Jim Maxwell

The same team who brought you Gauntlet 1 and Gauntlet 2 are hard at work designing and planning a whole new set of obstacles to test your juggling agility and nimbleness. But to do it up right, they could use your help. Go to this website www.juggle.org/gauntlet to join the Gauntlet 3 crowdfunding campaign. Unna Med has graciously agreed to match your contribution dollar-for-dollar. Here are some of the challenges you can expect to see in Gauntlet 3.

1. "Ball Hall" - Contestants run down 12 feet of balance beam while balls drop from a ceiling above them. This obstacle is as much a challenge for the contestant as for the builders. Engineers will marvel at the yet to be constructed ball return system. Possible ideas include either an Archimedes screw, conveyor belt or blower system to move balls from the floor to the ceiling of the 'ball hall'.
2. "Math is Hard!" - Yeah, but jugglers are so smart...or are they? Jugglers will face a massive computer driven multiple choice wall. Contestants will have 3 chances to punch the correct answer to multiple choice arithmetic equations which briefly flash on screen on the wall. This summer, we finally test contestants' brain power.
3. "The Volcano" - Contestants have to throw one ball up high through a giant, narrowing conical 'volcano' suspended overhead and then catch the ball on the rebound as it navigates its way down the side over various foils, cantilevers and ledges on the outside of the giant volcano cone.
4. "The Car Wash" - Giant spinning wheels of pool noodles confront and confound the juggler as she runs through the field of spinning styrofoam 'blades of death'.
5. "Tie Run" - It works for training Marines, so why not jugglers. It's the classic test of agility and speed, all while juggling.
6. "Giant Slide" - Contestants will test their nerve as they climb up stairs to an 8 foot high platform to slide down a 12 to 14 foot custom-built slide, all while juggling. Don't worry, there will be railings on the stairs, but will they contain the contestant's fear of heights and free-fall speed?
7. "Ring Mover" - Ring neck pull downs may have gone out of style on the main IJA competition stage in 1986, but they very well may be back in style this summer when contestants need to move one juggling ring hanging from a peg on a wall, across an 8 foot gap, and hang it to rest on a peg on an opposing wall, all while juggling.
8. "Teeter-Totter" - The crowd pleasing obstacle from Gauntlet 1 is back as contestants race up and then crash down the other side of a giant teeter-totter.
9. "The Bike Rack" - We will push contestants' precision coordination to the edge as they are forced to make one catch and one throw in their cascade from in between each of the vertical slots of a long run of vertical PVC pipes. Sound easy? Go try it at your local bike rack right now. Don't worry, we'll wait right here for you while you drop 6 million times.
10. "Sleepy Time" - Don't get too sleepy for this bouncy, shaky obstacle. Contestants have to run across a giant field of inflatable mattresses.

Life Member Myron Wilcox, 1926 - 2016, by Martin Frost

Long time IJA life member Myron Wilcox died April 6 at the age of 89 in Porterville, California. He joined the IJA in 1981, later becoming Life Member #21. Myron was awarded the IJA Excellence in Education Award in 1995 and was often seen at festivals wearing a ten-gallon hat, which represented only a fraction of the 23 gallons of blood that he very proudly donated. He also encouraged others to donate blood. He always enjoyed performing at Club Renegade doing juggling punctuated with many puns.

Myron was well known in Porterville for the juggling that he loved to display and teach and for teaching swimming there for decades. "A Porterville legend", he was inducted into the town's wall of fame in 2015. Following his death, the Porterville Recorder published an article on Myron as well as his obituary.
